This beautifully illustrated book introduces readers of all ages to American history from 1000 to 1700 A.D. through projects associated with various peoples of the period. By replicating several pieces of Viking jewelry in paper, readers can learn the story of the Vikings' clothing and craftsmanship. From the Woodland Indians comes a treasure trove of clothing, weapons, and containers, re-created here with paper. Fifteen colonial-era projects are included. Full-color illustrations, a history of each object described, stories, and a colorful map bring long-vanished cultures to life.
