All those people - were any of them who they seemed?

Set in Chicago, 1975, Double Take is the story of artsy Rachel Cochrane, who returns from college with no job and confronts the recent death of Bando, one of her best friends. When she runs into Joey, a mutual friend, their conversations take them back into their shared past and to the revelation that Bando may have been murdered. To find out who murdered him, Rachel is forced to revisit her stormy 1960s adolescence, a journey that brings her into contact with her old friends, her old self, and danger.

Surprising and haunting, this is an insightful reminiscence of a time of naivety, danger and renewal.

PRAISE FOR ABBY BARDI

'Thank you to NetGalley and HarperCollins Publishers Australia for the opportunity to read and review this book [THE SECRET LETTERS]' Elizabeth, Netgalley

'You'll like this book [THE SECRET LETTERS] if: The thrill of the chase is something you enjoy, followed by a hugely surprising twist!' Pam, Netgalley

'I know I am enjoying the book [THE BOOK OF FRED] when I am frantically skimming sentences to find out what is going to happen next. I thought the story told, by four different characters, was ingenious' - Kellie, Goodreads

'I loved this book [THE BOOK OF FRED]. The first fifth of the first sentence on the back cover was enough to get me to pick it up from the library shelf ... I loved the way the story was told from several different perspectives ...' Betsy, Goodreads
