The Journal of Finn Reardon: A newsie, New York City, 1899 (My Name Is America) Susan Campbell Bartoletti

When his father dies, Finn Reardon must support his family by selling newspapers on the streets of Manhattan, where he finds himself in the middle of the Newsie Strike of 1899.

When Finn Reardon's father dies, he decides to support his mother and eight siblings by peddling newspapers on the streets corners of New York City. But when the two biggest newspaper publishers, Hearst and Pulitzer, raise the wholesale price that Finn and his friends pay for the papers they sell, the boys band together and go on strike. Susan Campbell Bartoletti brings humor and wit to this classic David and Goliath struggle between the Newsies and the newspaper publishers.

As a college student exactly feel bored to help reading. If their teacher requested them to go to the library in order to make summary for some e-book, they are complained. Just very little students that has reading's spirit or real their passion. They just do what the instructor want, like asked to the library. They go to right now there but nothing reading critically. Any students feel that reading is not important, boring along with can't see colorful pictures on there. Yeah, it is for being complicated. Book is very important for you.
